

Abstract

Well log derived data and geotechnical core measurement results have been compared.